Boggo Road and Southern Area - construction update

The internal wall structure for the new Boggo Road main station building is nearing completion as the new station begins to rise above ground level. Rail installation remains the focus below ground, with the services for the future station being installed.

Pedestrian and cycle bridge update

Over the coming months, out-of-hours work on the bridge will continue, with the installation of the concrete bridge deck, approaching ramps, drainage, services, canopy and privacy screens. Pedestrian elevators will be delivered for construction and installation later this year.

Boggo Road station update

Construction of the new Boggo Road station continues with the structure rising above ground level. The team continue to work on the construction of the internal walls in preparation for canopy installation.

The installation of rail within the station will continue over the coming months, and upon completion will mark a major milestone for the site. Fit-out activities are also progressing in the station box, with the installation of utility rooms that will service the future station. Key works include the ongoing installation of the platform screen doors.

Southern Portal update

Permanent mechanical and electrical (M&E) fit-out works within the tunnel portal will continue. The southern portal will also have large deliveries of rail and precast track slabs.

Over the coming weeks, landscaping works will be undertaken along Railway Terrace, Dutton & Pound Streets.
